Howard Rosan. Temple alumnus and the apple of Eddie Gottlieb's ng exhibition he gave at the Broadwood last night is to keep up for some reasonable length of time. court opener hereabouts with the Sphas defeating Trenton, 51 to 35 in a non-league contest.

Rosan, cursed with the ugliest, ickname of them all, "Reds," was and out of the contest several times but he played most of the econd fifteen-minute period and scored three of his four goals in this session. Two of these doubledeckers were made on the fly and they are the variety of shots that I believe will make Rosan a name long to be remembered in court circles. They are the one-armed twisters that no guard can prevent, especially when executed in the man-ner that Rosan scores for Howard able to toss them up and spin them in from either side.

So much for his shooting—Rosan plays a court game too and he does what every player should do if he is a team worker-get rid of the ball as quickly as possible.

The Sphas scored 22 times from the field against a team that was not as well conditioned as the Hebrews. Every man in the South Phillies lineup made one or more from scrimmage except Gil Fitch and this former Central High satellite had plenty of tough luck. As may be gathered from a glance at the box score the winners were dropping them through the strings in mid-season style against adversaries who played somewhat listlessly and took pot shots from the range rather than cut for the

With Jack Dempsey acting as referee, 8000 fight fans turned out at both advanced. Wesley eliminated the Arena last night when amateur boxers continued their campaign for Philadelphia and district titles. In all 18 bouts were staged and champions crowned in two weight divisions, with Huel Goodwin, Sigma warrior, gaining the light heavyweight diadem and Tony Stenza capturing featherweight honors.

The fighting was more spirited than at any other time this year the boxers apparently being inspired to greater heights by the presence of the old Manassa Mauler in the ring. A host of other boxing celebrities were on hand and were intro-
