By a singular coincidence there came to Brookfield about June last two brothers, Rev. L. C. York of Detroit, Mich., and Capt. A. A. York of Tampa, Florida. They are both natives of Brookfield, and neither had any previous knowledge of the other's intention to revisit the old home at the same time. The man went about with one hand handcuffed up, claiming to have lost two fingers while at work in a Pennsylvania stone quarry. The man started on a run up the street. He was captured by Officer Silverwater after a brief chase. When taken before the magistrate his hand was found to be uninjured save that he had burned it, doubtless purposely, with muriatic acid. When searched about $3.00 in money was found on his person.

RAILROAD TALK AGAIN.
We copy the following article from the New Berlin Gazette without comment, except to say that we hope it may be true:
The visit of Dr. Lewis Morris and party to this place last Sunday, mentioned in our personal column, had in it a possibility of more than ordinary significance. Dr. Morris was spending a few days at his old home near Morris village. We understand that he has bought the old manor property which is to be greatly improved, and that its owner is likely to spend some part of each summer there. Dr. Morris becomes, by his marriage to the youngest daughter of Senator Clark of Montana, a brother-in-law of Dr. E. M. Culver, president of the Unadilla Valley Railway Co. He is himself a director in the company, and naturally interested in an easy means of access to his summer home. His trip over the line the other day was made for purposes of inspection, and we are credibly informed that he expressed himself as favoring the extension of the U. V. road through Morris to Oneonta, where it would connect with the D. & H. and also the Ulster & Delaware, which is just finishing an extension to that place.
We do not think we are saying too much when we predict that there is a fair prospect of the building of this extension. The line thus formed would be an ideal one for summer tourists' travel, permitting a visit to the Catskills, then via the U. V. to the Unadilla Valley, and the D. J. & W., to reach Richfield Springs easily and quickly.
A still further extension from New Berlin to Earlville, would give a connection that would bring Syracuse sixty-eight miles nearer New York.

THE WHITCOMB FAMILY REUNION.

Fifty-three persons gathered at the picnic grounds on the farm occupied by Henry Whitcomb, last Thursday, by invitation of Mr. Whitcomb and his wife. Up till 8:00 the day was ideal for outdoor gatherings under the shade of the trees on the grassy banks of the creek, and then a heavy shower came up out of the west. But nobody cared for that it was needed so much, and it was but a few steps to the house, where all gathered and enjoyed a social hour, a pleasant ending of a happy day. All the surviving children of the late David Whitcomb were present: Mrs. Emeline Whitcomb Carpenter, Mrs. Angelina Whitcomb Holliday, Edwin G. Whitcomb, Miss Julia Whitcomb, Mrs. Lucy Whitcomb Gardner, and Charles L. Whitcomb. There were also Alwell Whitcomb and Fred Whitcomb of Oneonta, son and grandson of Dr. Winslow Whitcomb, who was a brother of David Whitcomb's father. To the above named may be added their families and numerous relatives, some being descendants of the sisters of David Whitcomb. It was the first time all these members of this family were ever together and the occasion was a most pleasant one indeed.

Among those not named above who were present from out of town were the following: Perry Rathbun and wife of Schuyler Lake, John Sanford and wife of Oneonta, Mrs. Thurston and Miss Hervey of New York and Earl Thurston of Syracuse, relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitcomb; W. R. Leonard and wife, Leon Burdick and wife, Isaac Burdick and family and George O'Brien and family, of Oneonta; and Lester W. Clark and family of Otego. The enforced absence of several others who had anticipated the gathering, was the one regret of the day.

The bonds issued by the U. & D. railroad company for building the extension to Oneonta are selling at 103, which shows the confidence people have in the financial standing of that company. It will be a useful and busy road.
The jury in the case against Mrs. Mary E. Mattice of Hubbard, for setting fire to her hotel recently burned, after deliberating for many hours, returned to the court room and reported they could not agree, and were discharged.

The New York Milk Exchange paid for June milk 64c per can. This is the highest price paid for June milk in eight years. The price was 54c one year ago and 44c for the preceding four years. The milk producers' organization was probably a cause for the increase.

Rev. Frank Chase, a native of West Laurens, now pastor of the Methodist church at Danville, who has been stopping with his mother and other relatives at Portlandville, while suffering from nervous prostration, has been taken violently insane. Judge Mattice has signed his commitment papers to the Binghamton hospital for treatment. Mr. Chase, who is about 40 years of age, was at one time pastor of a large Universalist church in Detroit, at a salary of $2,000 a year. He resigned therefrom to enter the Methodist ministry and occupied a pulpit in Buffalo before going to Danville.

The plans and specifications for Oneonta's new hospital have been prepared by the architects and the contract will soon be let. The building is to be a perfect one for its uses and will be a handsome looking structure. It will be of solid red brick walls with Indiana limestone trimmings, steps, door sills, etc., of Oxford stone. The roof will be of slate and the interior will be finely finished. It will be located at the corner of Third street and Norton avenue, between Main street and the Fair grounds. The main portion will have three stories and a basement and will be 29x54 feet, and the wing from the main structure is two stories high, with basement, and 22x38 feet in size.

The Mirick homestead in Butternuts, on the hill south of Gilbertville, was entirely destroyed by fire last week Tuesday afternoon. While Charles E. Mirick and his family were at dinner, fire was discovered in a side room, which probably started from a brush pile which Mr. Mirick had been burning. The house is quite a distance from neighbors and help was long in coming. The family got out all they could from the burning building, but most of its contents were a total loss. The destroyed property was a valuable one, and the furniture and goods of the house were doubly valuable on account of long family ownership. Insurance $1,600 in the town company.

Kinyon Terry, a prominent Chenango county farmer, died suddenly of heart disease at his home two miles south of Norwich last Thursday. His age was 60 years.

Letter to Samuel Monroe, Morris, N. Y.
Dear Sir: Lead and oil is no longer the paint to be prosperous with. As everybody knows, lead and oil chalks or powders off in about three years—three years is its limit. Painters are putting a little zinc in their lead to make it tough—it lasts a good three years with a little zinc. But painters don't like the job of mixing zinc. It's a tedious job, and, both being white, nobody knows when the mixing is thorough. It gets half-mixed, and the paint goes on, a streak of lead and a streak of zinc. That is not good work. The mistake made is in trying to do by hand what is better done by machinery. Hand-work can't compete with machine-work. Devco lead zinc is your paint. It wears twice as long as lead and oil. This reduces the cost of keeping a house well painted to half. Yours Truly, F. W. DEVCO & CO.
