I Cure Cancer!

When I say I cure cancer, I do not mean merely to relieve it for a time and then have it return again, I mean

A Permanent Cure.

I have cured the worst cases—those that were called hopeless. I cure cancer by home treatment without the aid of the surgeon's knife or burning plasters. I cure in a soothing and painless manner. Because others have failed to find a reason why you should endanger your life with this malignant affliction. I also cure Gout, or enlarged neck, Scrophulous, Eczema, Tumors or any other disease of the blood, kidneys, stomach or liver. I have made remarkable cures. If you are suffering from any of these diseases write me fully, and I will send you complete diagnosis and advice free. Address

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST TO MORRIS.
The streets and lawns of Morris never looked neater than they do this year.

V. D. L. Mansfield was taken to the Binghamton State hospital last Thursday.

The State encampment of the G. A. R. this year will be at Rochester June 4 and 5.

The Weedens have a good show room for wagons now, and also some wagons in it.

Albert Stroug and wife of Bainbridge were visiting friends in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Merritt Matteson and Miss J. L. Matteson were in Oneonta Saturday and Sunday.

The many friends of Frank Perry were glad to welcome him home from Texas last week.

Pan American stamps were put on sale by our up-to-date postmaster last week. New spring assortment just put in.

The last Legislature passed a bill and the Governor signed it, requiring a fire-drill in all schools attended by 100 or more pupils.

The serious mental condition of Geo. M. Colvin of this village is becoming a severe trial and a source of much anxiety to his family and friends.

That was a glorious rain last week. Farmers tell us that grass is ten days ahead of last year, and that a bountiful hay crop is assured.

Spring is merging into summer and what has become of our railroads? And what has become of that trolley road between Sidney and Franklin?

We note that at the last election of officers of the Delphic society, Oneonta Normal school, Calvin Derrick was elected president, and S. S. Kilkenny vice-president.

We hear that Warren Sweet of this village, class of 1901, Oneonta normal, has accepted a position for next year at Valley Stream, a village a few miles out from Brooklyn.

Last Saturday forenoon Master Jay Slater caught a number of fine fish in the upper pond and among the number a pickerel seventeen inches long weighing 1 1/2 pounds.

As will be seen in another column, F. L. Churchill of this place sells the Deering bull bearing haying and harvesting machinery, and invites farmers to call on him if interested.

At the opening day of the Utica board of trade this week 2,170 boxes of cheese were handled at 7 1/2 cts. At the opening day a year ago 900 boxes were disposed of at 10 1/2 cts.

Potter, the Sherburne marble dealer, was in Morris last week and set up two neat granites, one on Miss Pascoe's lot in Hillington cemetery, and one on Jabez Collins' lot in the Friends grounds.

During the celebration of the centennial of Zion church on May 20th, a tablet to the memory of Pascal Franchot will be unveiled by Bishop Tuttle, and the cornerstone of the parish house will be laid.

The Bainbridge Republican speaks of the death at Masonville on May 15 of Mrs. Martha Priest at the age of 85 years. She had resided at that place sixty-one years. She was the grandmother of Mrs. Geo. Whitman of this village.

George R. Greene, U. S. A., who was recently transferred from the infantry to the artillery, has been promoted to First Lieutenant. Mr. Greene entered the army in 1898 and served through the campaign in Cuba as a private. His advancement in the ranks has been rapid.

An editor out west printed an item which stated that "the man who had been hugging the hired girl had better stop or his name would be published." In a few days about twenty-five citizens paid up their subscriptions and told the editor to "pay no attention to the foolish stories going round."

We do not see the names of any Morris people in the New York Herald's recently published list of 3,828 millionaires in the United States. Cooperstown comes in for two: Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Constable. We apprehend Oneonta has one at least, but his name is not in the list.

The many friends in Otsego county of H. J. Adams and wife of Deposit, sympathize greatly with them in the death of their son Clark E., aged 19 years. He was instantly killed at Hancock May 1st by being run over by the cars. He was a grandson of the late Rev. Nelson Adams, years ago a resident of this place.

Lynn E. Jenkinson, formerly of this village, now in the Syracuse university, has a position as head waiter in one of the Pan-American hotels at Buffalo. Lynn has had considerable experience in this line at the summer hotels on the St. Lawrence river. If some of our young men want a chance in, we refer them to the Want ad. in this issue.

Jeland Hurlbut of this village was married at Frankfort on Wednesday evening of last week; the bride being Mrs. Julia Miller of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbut will arrive in Morris this week. The Chronicle extends best wishes to them and a welcome to Mrs. Hurlbut to our village.

There may be some people left in Morris on Wednesday, but we should judge that most of them were going to Ringling's circus at Oneonta. The thousands of attractions that way are proving too much to resist.

Mrs. George Kidder of Laurens was in Morris last Tuesday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Merton Porter, who on account of ill health has been obliged to give up her position in the school in that village for a few weeks.

S. M. Brown, proprietor of the West Oneonta hotel, has purchased of Charles Bowen, the sulphur spring located about one and one half miles from West Oneonta, on the Morris road. The purchase includes one acre of land with an option upon an additional acre if desired.

Rose Jannett, the thoroughbred Scotch collie of Harry M. Donoghue, gave birth last week to five puppies, fathered by Providence Wonder whose grand sire was Champion Southport Perfection. Southport Perfection is now owned by J. P. Morgan who gave $40,000 for him. The mother of these puppies descended from Ch. Christopher who is now 14 years old, and one of the most noted collies and prize winners in this country.

This Tuesday morning Mrs. O. F. Hawley of Otego met with quite an accident. She is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Lull, on the Elliott farm a mile below the village. Under the back piazza is a large unused cistern, the covering of which had become unsafe and broke through as Mrs. Hawley walked over it. As she fell she threw out her right arm and caught herself and was able to keep from falling to the bottom until help came and she was got out. Being a rather stout woman she was quite severely injured by her fall, besides a dislocation of her right shoulder.

Transparency is a desirable quality in window glass, but the good Paint must possess opacity. Write STERLING WHITE LEAD CO., Pittsburgh, for booklet.

OBITUARY.
ANGELINE WHITCOMB HOLIDAY.
Mrs. Angeline Holiday of Morris died at the home of her brother, Chas. L. Whitcomb, in Otego, on Monday, May 13, 1901, about one o'clock p. m. Mrs. Holiday had been for the past year with Mrs. Merrills in Otego, and was taken sick about two weeks ago and went to her brother's. She had been getting better and was able to be about the house. Monday, just after dinner, as she stood at the table she suddenly fell to the floor. When reached she was dead. Her physician says death came probably at the instant she fell, caused by valvular disease of the heart.

Mrs. Holiday was a daughter of the late David Whitcomb of Morris; she was born August 1, 1830, and from 1860 until 1883 her home was here. In August of the latter year she married Richard Holiday of Otego and moved to that village. Mr. Holiday died in 1888, shortly after which she returned to Morris. She was a sister of Mrs. J. P. Carpenter, Elwin Whitcomb and Miss Julia Whitcomb of this village, and Mrs. Lucy Gardner of Oneonta. She was a Christian woman, a member of the Baptist church, and her sudden and unexpected death brings sadness to many hearts.

Hiram Monroe died early on Saturday morning, May 11th, aged 65 years, after being an invalid for many years. He is survived by his wife and four children, Samuel, William, Jesse and Mrs. Clark Spencer, all residents of this village. Mr. Monroe was a veteran of the Rebellion, enlisted in Co. C, 153d Regiment, in Aug., 1862, and was discharged in March, 1865.

The funeral was held at the M. E. church Monday afternoon, attended by Kidder Post, G. A. R., of which deceased was a member.

OTSEGO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES.
Somebody is asking Mr. Carnegie for a library for Sidney.

That excellent paper the Otsego Journal, was 25 years old last week.

An Oneonta jeweler has a clock to sell that will run 400 days with one winding.

The census of the new city of Oneida has just been completed and it shows a population of 7,714.

Rev. S. S. Eddy, Field Secretary of the New York State Sunday School association, was in Otsego county last week.

Rev. Sam Small will speak in this county beginning May 20th at Cherry Valley, Worcester the 21st, Otego 22d, Mt. Vision 23d, Oneonta 24th.

Harrison L. Beatty of Bainbridge was lucky enough last week to sell seventy-five shares of Northern Pacific stock for $700 a share—a total of $52,500.

The annual meeting of the Franklin Baptist association and Sunday School convention will be held at Mt. Upton the first Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in June.

The pair of Nutwood colts recently owned by Gilbert Palmer, of Mt. Upton, which took five first premiums last fall at the fairs, was recently sold to a New York party for $1000.

Oneonta people are discussing two important questions just now. The re-paving of Main street and a bridge crossing over the railroad on Main street. The need of both is evident.

Albert F. Winn of Oneonta, who enlisted in the twenty-eighth infantry and went to the Philippines in 1899, returned home last week with an honorable discharge. He was with Gen. Wheaton in his campaigns.

The report of the Wilber National bank of Oneonta appears in another column. This institution is enjoying a wonderful period of prosperity and is deserving the attention of those who desire a safe and convenient place to do business.

Dr. Lewis A. Rhodes, for over fifty years in the dental business at Norwich, died suddenly May 8th, aged 75 years. Dr. Rhodes was a veteran, he raised the 103d regiment in 1863, composed entirely of Chenango county men and was its colonel.

Lewis Edson Waterman died at his home in Brooklyn, last Tuesday, of catarrhal troubles. He was best known as the president of the L. E. Waterman company, the manufacturers of the fountain pen which bore his name. Mr. Waterman was born at Deatur, Otsego county, in 1839.

The new bank tax law assesses banks one per cent of the total amount of their capital stock, surplus fund and undivided profits. But one assessment is made and the supervisors and county treasurer appropriate the amount of the single tax to the school district, the village, and the town.

The Erie Railroad Company has decided to employ bloodhounds in running down criminals in the future. Detective Chas. B. Perry of Deposit purchased two pups in Athens, Pa., for the railroad Friday. The dogs will be trained and others will be purchased if the experiment proves a success.

A mortgage executed by the Oneonta, Cooperstown & Richfield Springs Railway Company to Knickerbocker Trust Company of New York, as trustee, to secure bonds to the amount of $1,000,000, was recorded in the county clerk's office last week Monday. The revenue tax upon the same is $500.

The Schenectady almshouse is located almost within the city limits, and in consequence it has become an asylum for hoboes, who find shelter and a supper and breakfast free gratis. Since last November 4000 of these tramps have found food and shelter there. Each one is furnished with two large thick slices of fine wheat bread and butter and a piece of meat as large as a man's fist, both night and morning.

Farmers, Attention!
They draw easy, they hold easy, the mouldboards are always bright and clean. Three good reasons why you should be interested in the new easy draft "Le Roy Plow." Furnished in all sizes from one to four horse, wood or iron beam, flat land or side hill. Adapted to all conditions of soil and localities. Call at once and see them and obtain full particulars at C.
