Our readers may notice this week a change in the make-up of our outside pages. A good serial story is running on the fourth page, and on our first page from week to week will be found news of the day, comments thereon and other interesting reading.
G. A. Yates, the weather observer in his section for the U. S. Weather Bureau, reports that snow fell during seven months ending May 1st; that the total snowfall was 88 inches and was distributed through the months as follows: Oct. 1 in.; Nov. 4 in.; Dec. 25 in.; Jan. 35 in.; Feb. 6 in.; March 10 in.; April 7 in.

Rev. M. H. Reid, the Methodist pastor, besides being a successful minister, is a lover of poultry and makes the keeping of them a big success. Hon. John B. Conkling is a candidate for renomination for his fourth term as Member of Assembly. As he is with the "powers that be" he will be renominated. Dr. Conkling is a good member and during the past winter, as we have from time to time noted in these columns, he has voted for the people's interest on every question before the Legislature.

His Life Saved

When All Other Treatments Had Failed. What other Physician Makes Such Cures? Do You Know of Any?
SIXNEY, N. Y.
Dr. H. C. Southworth—My dear Sir—I write this testimonial to let all people who may be suffering from any serious blood disease know that I found in your treatment a perfect cure for a severe case of Scrophulous Ulcer. I had paid one physician $300 for medicine and used afterwards every treatment I could hear of, but I was injured on my left leg and the wound instead of healing developed into a terrible ulcer, the odor was terrible and besides I could not use the limb. I consulted one of the most prominent surgeons in the State and he said the limb would have to be cut off to save my life. I had heard of Dr. Southworth's skill in these diseases and I went to Leonardville and placed myself under your care with the result that to-day I am a well man, the limb is perfectly healed and I am a more grateful man than I can express for the cure and will be pleased to answer any letters from any one who wishes to write me in regard to my case. I am cured.
Yours sincerely,
E. I. COOPER.

Any one suffering from my disease of the Blood, Kidney, Bladder, Liver, or Lungs, or any old chronic trouble write Dr. Southworth your troubles in full, enclosing there is no charge for consultation at office or by letter.
Address,

OBITUARY.

Gertrude Mary Benington. Miss Gertrude Benington, whose heroic fight against that dread disease consumption has been sympathetically noted by her many friends in Morris, died at 6 o'clock on the morning of April 29th, aged 28 years. Her home was with her mother at her uncle A. E. Potter's in this village.
The early death of Miss Benington comes with a pang of sorrowful regret, and sense of personal loss to a wide circle of friends and neighbors in Morris. Brought up from childhood among us, a student of the High School and closely identified with all its varied interests, a constant worshipper in Zion church, and a faithful member of the choir—her bright, happy nature and true kind-heartedness endeared her to all her associates. She graduated in the class of 1899, having at the close of her studies 108 counts, the largest number ever made by a student here with one single exception; she afterwards took a course in the training class, and later the post-graduate course. For one year she taught in the Morris High School, then her health, never very robust, began to fail, and consumption, that insidious disease which lays its blighting finger on our brightest and our best, attacked her. She made an heroic effort to take up her usual routine of duties, but little by little her strength failed. In August last her mother took her to the Adirondacks, hoping the change of air might benefit her, but it soon became evident to all that her days were numbered. Her brightness and un-falling cheerfulness impressed all who met her at the sanitarium at Saranac; as a friend wrote, "Her example has been a blessing to all who came under its influence." And indeed seldom has an lingering, distressing illness been patient resignation. No word of repining; no murmur was allowed to pass her lips. Instead, a bright smile of welcome always greeted her friends. And none could stand by that sick-bed without learning a lesson of loving submission to God's will. She was able to look forward with clear faith and make all necessary arrangements for her departure, and shortly before her death said, "Give everyone my love, tell them 'goodbye' and thank them for all their kindness." God be praised for her bright example.

"I thank thee, O Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, because Thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father for so it seemed good in Thy sight."
The sympathy of the entire community is with her bereaved mother and uncles in their irreparable loss.
The funeral was held from Zion church Monday afternoon and was largely attended. Beautiful floral tokens expressive of loving sympathy and esteem came from many friends. The bearers, who had been named by Miss Benington, were Richard and Harry Folts, Nelson Sawyer, Robert Perry, Fred Wallace and John Rutherford.

Mrs. Almira Rathbun Brainard died at her grandson Willis Burdick's, in Edmeston, her home, this Tuesday morning, in her 88th year. She was a sister of the late David E. Whitcomb of this town and the last of that generation in the Whitcomb family. She had numerous relatives among our readers and was great-aunt to the publishers of the CHRONICLE.
Mary Morehouse, wife of Grover Pattengill, died at her home in New Lisbon last Saturday of consumption, aged 27 years, following the birth and death of an infant child. She leaves a young daughter and her husband. Mrs. Pattengill is well-remembered in Morris, where she formerly attended the High School. She was a young lady whom it was a pleasure to know, and to her family we extend heartfelt sympathy.

Mrs. Isaac Leggett died at her home at Elm Grove last Sunday morning, with pneumonia. Truly a good woman has gone from us. She was a member of the Friends meeting and an earnest Christian. She leaves a husband 92 years of age, and two daughters, Mrs. A. R. Sutherland and Mrs. Curtis Draper, and two sons, Benjamin of New York Mills and William of Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Leggett have been married 59 years and ten months, and have always resided in Morris.

Harvey Folts is dead at his home in Woodhull, Steuben county, at the age of 88 years. He was a brother of Mrs. John Colvin of this village, and of the late Thurlow and Spelman Folts of this town.
Lucy Fish, who with her two brothers lived in the southwestern part of the town, and was under the care of Overseer of the Poor Winton of this village, died last Sunday.

The bodies in Hillington Cemetery vault are being interred this week. There were but twelve.
The last Legislature having made adequate appropriation the Commissioner of Agriculture of this State is going to inaugurate a sweeping investigation in the candy trade with the idea of entirely stopping the sale of impure candy. Special agents have discovered that considerable candy is being sold throughout the State which is made wholly or in part of a substitute for sugar and which contains substances injurious to the human system.

OTSEGO AND NEAR-BY COUNTIES.
A Cooperstown man is going to plant almanacs and raise dates.
Ice disappeared from Otsego Lake April 24th, six weeks later than last year. The hard winter did much damage to the cement walks laid in Brookfield last summer.

State Senator Aids of Norwich has been renominated by the Republicans of his district.
The ladies of Milford are securing money to buy a silk banner for their fire department.
Sneak thieves visited the Otsego county farm the other night and stole thirty hams from the smoke house.

Two Norwich boys, Edward Hall aged 13 and Floyd Tibby aged 14 were sent to Elmira Reformatory the other day for burglary.
The people of Sidney village voted by a good majority last Tuesday to expend $10,000 to pave its Main street. A most desirable and commendable action.

The late Mrs. Palmyra Williams of Edmeston by her will left $300 for Baptist foreign mission work, $200 for home missions and $500 to the Edmeston Baptist church.
Oneonta's new public building which Congressman Smith is trying to secure, will have to wait a more favorable Congress, as no bills were permitted to be reported from committees this year for new public buildings.

Kate Taylor, the woman who murdered her husband in Sullivan county in January, 1903, and chopped up his body and burned it or fed it to the chickens, has been granted a new trial. She was convicted on the first trial and condemned to the electric chair.

Judge Sewall of Walton, who has returned from a brief visit to California, was apparently not favorably impressed with the country. In a conversation he said: "I've got a farm over on Trout Creek that I have been trying to give away, but I wouldn't trade it for the whole State of California."

The Ingalls Stone Co. of Oneonta and Binghamton has the contract to furnish $90,000 worth of out stone for the new ten story business building to be built in Binghamton by the Security Mutual Life Insurance company of that city. The building is to cost $500,000.

Judge George W. Ray of Norwich, United States district judge for this district, who has been seriously ill and unable to hold court this winter, is in a New York hospital where an operation was performed upon him about a fortnight ago. His friends will be gratified to learn that he is making rapid progress and is now considered out of danger.

Miss Florence Mackintosh died in Sidney April 11th. There were suspicions of foul play, and a coroner's examination was had. Evidence brought out the fact that the girl had been poisoned with arsenic, also that her stepmother, Mrs. Dewitt had bought that kind of drug at a Sidney store Feb. 2d. The girl's life was insured for $3,000. The case will probably go to the grand jury. Mrs. Dewitt has been arrested on suspicion and is now in the Delhi jail.

Go by the Name
The way to buy paint is to go by the name. There is a name never seen on shabu paint or cheap paint or short-measure paint: Devoo.

There are a hundred different names in paint. Some are sham; some weak; some short-measure; and some all three.
If there is another such paint as Devoo lead-and-zinc, we don't know it. There are a few fairly good paints; a few; only one Devoo. A gallon Devoo is worth a gallon-and-a-half of those few.

Mr. Aaron Higgins, of Plainfield, N. J., always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last spring he bought 15 gallons of Devoo and had 4 gallons left.

Going to the Home.

William Smith and wife of Gilberta, will be going to the W. R. C. Home at Oxford. They used to be residents of Morris where "Jackie" was a shoemaker. He served in the 151st regiment during the War. The Journal says: "Old age has gradually come upon 'Jackie' and his wife and of late years they have been dependent upon the small pension he received from the government. They have finally decided that they would be better off to give up housekeeping and go to the Home, where there would be some one to care for them in their feeble condition. 'Jackie' and his wife are known to everyone in the valley, and their friends all hope that in their declining years they may be provided with the tender care and comforts they so richly deserve."

NO QUESTION ABOUT IT.

Pepsikola Must Cure Indigestion or it is Free.
Mr. Folts continues to sell Morris people with the understanding it positively must cure dyspepsia and indigestion or it will not cost a penny.
Experience has proven that Pepsikola cures dyspepsia in forty-nine cases out of fifty. That is a remarkable statement, considering how difficult it is to cure dyspepsia, but the facts in the case can be easily verified.

There is every reason to have confidence, for Mr. Folts will hand back your money without the least hesitation should you fail to be benefited and cured.
You will see a marked improvement right away. All kinds of food can be eaten freely—it is more easily digested—there is no fullness or distress after eating—and by aiding the stomach to assimilate and digest, Pepsikola makes more red, rich blood to strengthen the body.

As a nerve tonic, nothing in the world will do you so much good as Pepsikola. It is just the thing for those who feel run down, nervous, tired and worn out and need something to give them new life and new energy. Don't hesitate a minute but go right to Mr. Folts and try it on his recommendation and guarantee, for Pepsikola must help and cure you or the cost is nothing.

F. A. BALLARD & CO., NEW BERLIN.

FOR WET DAYS OR DRY ONES.
We could tell you a whole lot about these two coats, but, really, what's the use? One is the Spring Covert Coat, with a popularity that forbids discussion. The mere mention of the other's name—The Raincoat—is like the wink to the wise—as good as a nod.
All the information you need know is that Crouse & Brandegee Raincoats are not Mackintoshes. They won't take water, but that's the only thing about them that indicates they're made for rainy days, and for that reason you can wear them any time.
You can make it take the place of the Covert as a spring overcoat, but we don't recommend this, as we would rather sell you both. And, oh! by the way, since we've mentioned the maker's name, we presume you know that there's nothing finer made.
